CC	-	-	ST + 5	Lightning Blessed- If this special blade scores a successful wound and the target is not slain outright, it must make an additional save against its LD score. If successful nothing more happens. If it fails this save, it is considered stunned and loses one available action when next it activates. These effects are not cumulative.

CC	-	-	ST + 4 (x2)	Elven Animosity- Should the wielder of this blade be within LOS and 10' of an Elven Warband or Individual not already engaged in close combat, those Elves will be incited into a great Hatred. Follow rules for Hate per the Special Ability.

Requirements: The Repulsar Lord is considered an Individual for purposes of army construction. If the army contains Knights of the Order Mallus he may be assigned as their commander and thus part of the warband.

HATE

Some models have an intense loathing for an Individual, warband or race and they will go to any length to attack the focus of that hatred. A model with the Hate Special Ability will have the subject of their animosity noted in their Profile. Sometimes certain items or places will illicit this type of deep response as well. A model afflicted with Hate must abide the following rules:

- 1) Models may disregard standard targeting issues to focus on the object of their hatred. Models need to roll their LD +4 in the event an enemy is within 10" of them in order to pursue the object of their hatred. If successful they may focus on the hated model. If not, standard targeting priority applies.
- 2) Models which cause a Morale test which are also the subject of Hate actually incite their assailant. Models add 4 to their LD when making Morale tests against hated opponents.
- 3) Models will not willingly break from combat with a hated model.
